A beast used to hunt dragons. The dragon-hunting beast is a possible reward from the Chambers of Xeric. Equipping the beast requires 65 Ranged and increases accuracy and damage by 30% when fighting dragons (excluding Elvarg and revenant dragons), as well as wyverns and the Great Olm. This stacks additively with the Void Knight equipment, not multiplicatively. The beast, however, will stack multiplied with the Slayer command () (49.5%). Long kebbit screws and Kebbitt screws cannot be used with this weapon, unlike the similarly named hunters beast that can fire them. Wide screws can be used, however, they require 55 Slayer to use. The beast has an attack range of 7. Longrange increases attack range by 2. List Combat styles Trivia After launch, the dragon-hunting beast had 10% accuracy and damage bonus. This was changed to 30% in an update on January 25, 2018. The purchase limit for the dragon hunter beast was previously 70, but was changed to 8 in an update on March 29, 2018 to combat price manipulation on the Big Exchange. The dragon-hunting beast is a dragonbane weapon obtained as a possible reward from xeric's chambers. Equipping the beast requires 65 Ranged and increases accuracy and damage by 30% when fighting dragons and other drachnic creatures such as wyverns and the Great Olm. However, Elvarg and Revenant dragons are not affected by this bonus. This stacks up multiplied with Void Knight gear, Salve amulets, and the slayer rudder (). [1] Long kebbitt screws and Kebbitt screws cannot be used with this weapon, unlike the similarly named hunters beast who can fire them. Wide screws can be used if the player has the requirement of 55 Slayer. The beast has an attack range of 7. Longrange increases attack range by 2. ^ Jagex (2009). Mod Ash's Twitter account. March 23, 2020. (Filed from the original on March 23, 2020.) Mod Ash: Save effects replace the effects of the slayer rudder/black mask (because they are identical or larger). Then you will receive bonuses for Void, then multiplied by the Save effect, and then multiplied again to the dragonbane bonus. Are you being merched or something? I'm getting inclined because I bought it a few weeks ago at 110 m. Vorkath's death is actually more forgiving than other bosses if you die. It's been solid for a long time and suddenly seems to be hitting hard the last few days. Days. Do you know why? Page 2 28 comments from the Old School RuneScape Wiki Wiki
